

Revealing Gestures

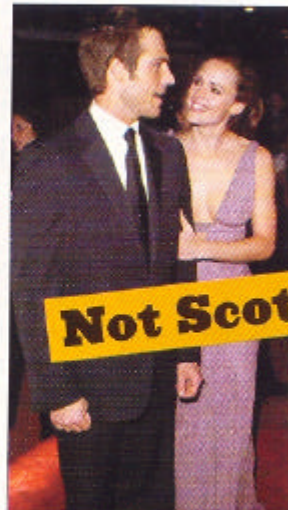

Body language expert Patti Wood analyzes the postures of Jennifer and Scott (and Michael Vartan!)

February 9, 2003: The pair at the Daredevil premiere.

February 18, 2003: Foley and Garner head to a Hollywood shopping center.

March 16, 2003: Garner and Alias costar Vartan.

Distanced duo "They're not showing a relationship. They're not touching, and their heads are turned toward different cameras. When a couple is in sync, they look at the same camera."

Out of step "He's walking off the curb to make them the same height. This makes it easier for them to talk to one another. But they're not walking in sync, and they're very far apart. Their hands are hidden, meaning they're hiding something."

Cozy coworkers "Her face is all lit up, and she's making adoring eye contact. Her whole body is facing toward him, and her head is tilting up. He's not as involved."
